LIFE Stop Press - H2020 Nature based solutions event - 30th September, 2015...

For those who are considering future proposals to the LIFE Programme, this opportunity to attend an H2020 Programme ½ day event next week in London, on the morning of Wednesday, 30 September 2015 at Hilton London Euston Hotel, London, may be of interest to explore other potential EU funding options.

The Knowledge Transfer Network led event - H2020 Nature-based Solutions (SC5) - Re-greening Cities Information Day – is part of a series of events officially launching Horizon 2020 Societal Challenges 2 (Food security, sustainable agriculture and forestry, marine and maritime and inland water research and the bio-economy) and 5 (Climate action, environment, resource efficiency and raw materials) in the UK. It will include presentations around a number of focus areas -

- large scale demonstration activities (both urban and rural) for disaster risk management (flood, drought, storm surges, landslide)
- large scale demonstration activities focusing on water resilience in cities, sustainable urban regeneration,
- city-based demonstration activities on cultural and industrial heritage (regeneration and re-use)

Further information, including the agenda is available on the Eventbrite portal.

Please note that registration is now open for expressions of interest and is restricted to 1 person from each organisation.
